VOL. XXXIII. NO. 40 BRISTOL, BUCKS COUNTY, PA., THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1906. PRICE THREE CENTS

ANDALUSIA.

"The foxes have holes and the birds of the air have nests but the Son of Man hath nowhere to lay his head." Our Lord never calls himself by any other name than this as if to impress with the peculiar nature of his humanity on which depended His Atonement for sin. Not the root of David only, but the flower. Not the sun only, but the bright and morning star. Not alone that which from whom humanity came, but also that which like whom humanity may be come. This expression repeated over and over again intimates that he is the Son of Man in the same way that He is the Son of God. He never says I am a God and he never says I am a Man. I am not at the head of the Universe and I do not as the head of humanity lay down my life for you. I am the revealer of God to you and I am the revealer of you to Him and to do so I must become your son even the Son of the one who was deceived. In this way only can I make atonement for your sin and unite you to Him being thus only truly Man as I am truly God. And I will establish my covenant with you; neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the waters of a flood; neither shall there be any more be a flood to destroy the earth."

We find in Habakkuk 2:4, "The just shall live by his faith," from which St. Paul may have quoted. We have noticed the following in Hebrews which makes it impossible that St. Paul is the author of any of it, except perhaps the last chapter He speaks of it as a "letter in a few words" Now Hebrews is not "a few words." It is longer than any of St. Paul's Epistles, except Romans and Corinthians. He means the last chapter which appears to be added as a postscript to the letter. In this last chapter he speaks of the release of Timothy from imprisonment and he is looking forward to seeing him and his other friends again. This is no last letter writter in the year 66 A. D., when St. Paul was about to die. It bears no resemblance to the book of Timothy which is evidently one of his last and in which his manner of writing has changed. It was probably written by a friend of St. Paul's who has in a manner imitated him and as in every composition there is more of others, especially of those loved or admired than there is of the author themselves, there may be a great deal of St. Paul in this, but evidently not written by him.

It is a fact that once the waters of the great deep were broken up and overflowed the earth and it is a fact they have never done so since. It is a miracle that they have not, and it was a dangerous thing to put such a prophecy on record unless it was certainly known it would be fulfilled, as it had occurred once, what more likely than that it would occur again, unless prevented by a power greater than nature. It is a miracle in both cases—in both cases it is a departure from the laws of nature, in the first place to overflow and in the second not to overflow. The question Evolutionists have to answer is how did it occur in the first place and how is it prevented from occurring again.

Letter to Rev. C. E. Burns.

Rev. Sir: Three churches in Baldwinsville, N. Y. have had their first lesson in Devoe

Messrs. Osterhout & Lockwood painted the Presbyterian parsonage; estimated 30 gallons; took 22.

Messrs. Slingerland & Shutter painted the Episcopal church; estimated 40 gallons; took 28.

Same painters painted the Catholic church; estimated 50 gallons; took 39.

Of course, they estimated from what they had been using. The saving in paint and work is $4 or $5 a gallon. Total saving on three jobs $125 to $150—the painting costs two or three times as much as the paint, you know. Yours truly

TULLYTOWN.

Even though I failed to take a very active part in the religious revivals, held in all parts of the country, Tullytown included, last winter and spring, the theme however has gotten into my head. Penn, in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin in decanting upon the subject, observes: that no revival ever yet produced a proper degree of awakening unless the fires of Hades were raked over and set to burning. Truly fire is a fearful element; it intimidates the bravest heart. We know that the natural fires can be extinguished by perseverance. And the man of much learning, the scientific student, tells us that the figurative fires spoken of in scripture are merely an imaginary terror. It would seem, however that the most successful modern evangelist saves sinners by scorching them. But to pray for an earthquake to swallow up a whole city full is certainly a pitiful spectacle; worthy of the condemnation of all Christian people. As long ago as I can remember, I have been in sympathy with religious movements. I do not recall that the olden time preachers hollowed fire as strongly as do the disciples of today. The most favorite manner of exhortation to invoke excitement in the early days of Christian endeavor was to picture the horrors and sorrow of the grave. The revivalist would go through the congregation buzzing, "the coffin, earth and winding sheet, will soon these active limbs enclose." That old buz-saw would be sounded in the ears of the child of ten, and men and women of three score years and ten, until the multitude would keep away from the meetings through disgust. Preachers that go about preaching and doing good, claim that they have been called to the work. And from the fact that so few succeed in reaching the pinnacle of the temple, we might infer that many are called and few are chosen. I once knew a shoemaker and he could make a very good shoe and during a religious infatuation he concluded to quit the business and enter the ministry, and it proved his undoing; for he was a sorry preacher from Alpha to Omega I know that it may be possible for some shoemakers to make good preachers, and I know some preachers that would do better work making shoes. In shoe trade parlance it would be a turnaround from saving souls to mending soles.

Platform tales: No. 2—Some years ago while stopping at a seaside resort, I noticed a transparent sign bearing this device; 'Rescue Mission. Always open. Everybody welcome." And I went in. Pledge cards were placed in receptacles at the back of the settee benches. When the invitation to come forward and sign was extended, a young man with card in hand approached the leader of the meeting, and after signing his name, gave the following short story of his life. "When I was a boy of fifteen my father died, leaving my mother the sole executrix of an estate valued at $25,000. I was her only child, and having plenty of money that mother freely gave me I began to lead a wayward life. By the time I was eighteen I was a common drinker, a gambler and a beggar for money from mother. She, to hide my sins, to pay my gambling and drinking debts, in poverish ed herself and became broken in health. And I went on in deeper debauchery and degradation. I was then twenty-two years old, and looked back to see what the last seven years of my life had done for me and mine. I was in desperate want, and mother was slowly dying. I approached the couch upon which she was reclining and roughly demanded more money. Without saying a word she gave me a five dollar note, and I hastened to the saloon. The barkeeper refused to change my money, for across the back of the note in red ink were these words: 'The last of $25,000 squandered by my boy in rum, ruin and riot.' When I returned home mother was dead. Oh mother was that red line drawn from the drops of a broken heart." When I heard the above story I questioned, "Was this mother to blame?" Listen: I think I hear an answering voice saying, perhaps.

A certain "Play-Actor" has inquired of the prison keepers of all the penitent institutions: "How many preachers, and how many actors have you in keeping." It is noticeable that New York, Pennsylvania and some other great states have refused to answer the insulting request. The inquiry is about on a par with the fanatic who asked the question, "Why is it that a majority of the hotel keepers are Democrats and all the preachers are Republicans? It requires no proverbial philosophy to answer that question.

The foundation for this letter, I have hastened to write, was laid while riding on the railway out into the central part of New Jersey. While absent I visited a reformatory for bad boys and girls, and the Asylum for mad men and women. During my absence I sojourned at the mansion farm house of Joseph Dilts, in the upper corner of Mercer county, a veritable Beulah land, where the bees are humming, and the cows lowing, giving one thoughts of milk and honey flowing. In truth I lived up there on the fat of the land.

With becoming respect to our sister from Andalusia, it will afford me true pleasure to give the inwardness of the corrected history of Tullytown at an early date.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain. The quick relief which the liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggel of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes: "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by Emlen Martin, Bristol, wholesale agent for Bucks county.

The esteemed New Hope News says: "A newspaper that never makes any mistakes never makes anything else. An infallible paper would indeed be a curiosity." All of which is very true. It is not the honest mistakes that people object to, but it is the willful perversion of the truth that constitutes an evil, which calls forth condemnation.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS

By our Doylestown Correspondent.

Doylestown, May 15, 1906.

"Marriage" was the subject of a sermon preached here in St. Mary's R. C. Church, this week, by Father Zilles, Redemptist priest, and in the course of his discourse he denounced divorce in most scathing terms and with unsparing eloquence laid bare the frightful ugliness resulting from vice and crime in and out of the marriage relation. By way of preface he spoke of the rotten condition of the human family and declared that there was no wonder that crime existed. Matrimony, he said, is the basis of the family and is a divine institution, with the propagation of the human race as its primary object. He roundly scored married people who thwart the designs of God in instituting marriage and declared that race suicide was a crime equal to murder, and that the result of the divorce and race suicide will be the downfall of this country as it was of the Roman Empire. In conclusion he gave parents a plain talk on the duty of protecting their children from immorality and urged them to see that young people have their hearts educated as well as their heads. It was his opinion that, generally speaking, everybody should get married, and he scored the old maids and bachelors, whom he said were too particular. He spoke discouragingly of too youthful marriages, but on the other hand he opposed "silver anniversary" courtships." A year is long enough for any young people to learn to know each other, he said. Parents make a mistake to allow these courtships to run along for four or five years or more. No sermon in a year has caused so much comment and the mission was crowded every evening to hear the sermons preached.

Two Democrats of this burg got into conversation this week and in a joking manner started to jolly a Republican in the bunch. "My father used to tell a good story," said one of them. "He said that once when an election was being held in the lower end of the county several Republican voters were challenged. It was finally decided to have them swear to certain facts, to which an eccentric old follower of Jefferson assented emphatically. "That's right," he said, "Swear 'em! Swear 'em! If they lie they'll go to hell, and that's where they belong, anyhow!"

Everybody laughed, of course, even the Republican, and then he remarked: "My father also told a good one apropos of this discussion, but his was the other way. He said he once found a drunk in the gutter and remonstrated with him about his condition. 'You're pretty low my friend; you must be a Democrat!' That was too much for the drunk, for raising himself uncertainly he ejaculated: 'Not a — bit of it! I've been pretty low in my time, but I never got down that far!' That settled the partisan story telling.

"Dancing and card playing are to spiritual babies what tin horns and rattles are to physical infants," declared Evangelist Munhall referring to these two much-discussed pleasures of society. During the course of this sermon he made use of a number of epigramatic expressions. In using homely illustrations he made the following statements:

"If you are not believers in God you are children of the evil one, and if I were you I'd be ashamed of my parent and get into a better family."

"I thank the Lord you women have charge of the babies, instead of us men. I don't wonder ministers have to go to Europe to keep from going to Norristown, considering that they sometimes have as many as 500 spiritual babies to look after."

"It is just as much a sin to make your servants work seven days a week as it is to lie and steal."

"It is only sensible to put aside the things that are childish, sensual, sinful and worldly, and to grow up to spiritual maturity."

Directors of the schools of the county, who will hold their convention on May 29, will follow this programme: "Is there a necessity for the revision and codification of the laws pertaining to the public schools of the commonwealth?" Hugh B. Eastburn, Doylestown; "Interpretation of the compulsory attendance act," Hon. Harry J. Shoemaker, Doylestown; Election of officers; "Uniform examination for the Ungraded and High Schools of the county," Dr. J. N. Richards, Fallsington township; "Disadvantage in Change of Teachers. How can the teaching force be kept constant?" Capt. Wynkoop, Newtown; "How can we obtain local district supervision of public schools" Wallace D. Heaton, Southampton township; Address by some prominent educator.

Did you ever know that Bucks county has one of the youngest Bars in the State? It's a fact; but although the average number of years of practice of the barristers is not great, it comprises some of the most able legal lights in the country. One of the attorneys who had a breathing spell this week got busy with statistics and found that there were forty attorneys actively engaged in practice at the Bar. But, although George A. Jenks, Esq. of Newtown has practiced 48 years the average practice of the forty is only 15 years while the last twenty admitted have been practicing on an average only 5 years and 9 months. The last 10 admitted have only practiced on an average of 2 years and 5 months.

Every cent of the $100,000 collection belonging to the Bucks County Historical Society has been moved from the Court House to the Society's new $30,000 building on Ashland street. On account of this work being done the spring meeting will be postponed until all the work is completed and the grounds put in shape. Sad as it is to say it is nevertheless the fact that Doylestown people have taken little interest in this beautiful building in assisting to have the ground graded about it, although it promises to be one of the show places of the county seat and a delightful park.

An agent of the Pure Food Commission came to town on Wednesday and issued warrants for two of the local merchants, A. A. Stover and H. R. Deichler, who were charged with selling shredded cod fish preserved with borac acid. They paid fines of $50 each and costs before Justice Willis Wall and were discharged, although there was considerable feeling in the matter, because other merchants in town, who sold the same article, escaped.

Something will have to be done to provide proper sewerage at the county jail soon or there may be an epidemic of disease. The Commissioners realize the serious condition existing as the result of the filling up of the cess-pool and the backing up of the sewage; but, as it is impossible to connect with the sewerage plant, they are casting about for some means of relieve conditions and an expert was looking over the situation a few days ago.

Tuesday, June 5, a convention of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society of North Philadelphia Association will hold a convention in the First Baptist Church here.

Health authorities here are getting up against some remarkable conditions. "No wonder we have epidemics of disease and can't stamp it out," said a prominent physician here this week when he related how a family of children had suffered a mild attack of scarlet fever and yet had been sent to school before they had ceased "peeling off," as the parents thought they only had the measles and had never called in a physician. The condition was discovered and an examination was made which showed that a case of scarlet fever had broken out in the school which the children were attending. No doubt it came from them as one of the sufferers, a boy, was still shedding skin, which is one of the most dangerous means of inoculation. "How can we do anything in the face of such criminal negligence?" asked the physician. No doubt it exists everywhere, and his suggestion is that any child remaining out of school shall be required to give an explanation of its absence and, in case of sickness, be required to furnish a physician's certificate. He also suggests that parents should be careful enough, when an eruptive disease appears among the children, to have a physican called in. The case mentioned is the second of the kind discovered here within a few weeks and show the need for some decisive steps being taken.

Judge Stout considered the applications for liquor licenses, Monday and every one asked for was granted. There were no applications for new licenses. The single remonstrance was that against the Black Bear Hotel, which was recently leased by Edward A. Tomlinson from Ernest Patzer. After hearing the testimony the court said it all related to the necessity for a license and as that had been previously shown he would grant it.

An opinion was also handed down requiring Harry A. Smith, executor of Jesse Leedom, to enter security in the sum of $10,000 or be dismissed from his trust.

Evangelist Munhall, Prof. Lowe and clergymen of the Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist and Lutheran churches of the town opened a series of revival meetings to last three weeks, Wednesday evening in Lenape Hall. It was largely attended and inspiring. There was a chorus choir of 100 voices which rendered excellent music and promises to be one of the features of the movement.

After farming Woodruff to Nicstown as a pitcher, Saturday afternoon, the local team administered whitewash, shutting out the visiters, 4 to 0. Woodruff and Pollock pitched excellent ball, but the former was not quite as well supported, an error by the second baseman allowing two runs to score.

"There won't be anything done about it that I know of," said District Attorney Shelly this week, when he was asked what action would be taken on the complaint of the Bucks County Medical Society that excessive fees were paid to an eminent physician and chemist in the Closson murder trial.

County Commissioners met on Monday and decided to advertise for bids for repairing the stone arch bridge over Pleasant Spring, in Hilltown township; Haycock Run Bridge and the Oakford bridge in Bensalem township.

Major General Clement M Divine, of Philadelphia, who is the head of the boys' brigade in Pennsylvania, will endeavor to organize a brigade in the Presbyterian Church, Friday evening.

Seventy-four young people were converted through Evangelist Munhall, Sunday afternoon, in Lenape Hall, at the revival meeting for persons between the ages of 12 and 25 years.

When the Doylestown Library Company held its annual meeting this week it was reported that there were 4000 books in the library and that the receipts of the year had been greater than the expenses.

Not less than two horses have turned summersaults this week over the mounds left by the telephone companies putting in trenches.

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of Nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. That very shadow of eclipse, which threatens it makes it the more prized. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. That is old age as it should be. But old age as it often is, means nothing but a second childhood of mind and body. What makes the difference? Very largely the care of the stomach. In youth and the full strength of manhood it doesn't seem to matter how we treat the stomach. We abuse it, overwork it, injure it. We don't suffer from it much. But when age comes the stomach is worn out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body, and the body, unnourished, falls into senile decay. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are "weak" and whose digestions are "poor." Its invigorating effects are felt by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age and makes old people strong.

A Woman's Idea of Success.

Kansas woman, Mrs. A. J. Stanley, of Lincoln, has been awarded a prize of $250 by a Boston firm for the best answer to the question, "What constitutes success?" She wrote: "He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory a benediction."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by Emlen Martin, Bristol, wholesale agent for Bucks county.

Miss Carrie Keller and her sister, Mrs. Person, are spending some time as guests of friends in Camden, N. J.

Miss Edith Dick entertained a number of her friends at supper on Wednesday evening.

On Thursday last Messrs. Jesse E. Harper, Harry Swartzlander, Walter Wareham and C. M. Eames, went to Philadelphia as delegates from the Episcopal Church at Yardley to the convention of the Episcopal Church held at St. Luke's Church, Philadelphia in connection with the Men's Thanks Offering. This movement is to be made by the men of the Episcopal Church through the United States for the purpose of raising funds as a thanks offering for three hundred years of Christian religion in the western hemisphere.

Invitations to a dance have been issued by the same young men who have been running a series of dances in the Yardley Hall, to a dance on Saturday evening next.

Preparations are being made to have a very good programme at the exercises which are to be held in the Odd Fellows Hall on Decoration day. Speakers from Trenton and other points will be on hand and local talent will contribute largely to the features of the afternoon.

The Newtown Century Club will have its annual outing meeting on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Knowles on Saturday afternoon next. This is the last meeting of the Club for the year and it is expected that there will be about a hundred persons present. A programme of a literary and musical character has been prepared and if the gods are propitious and give good weather an excellent meeting will be the result.

There was a meeting of the Yardley Fire Company in the office of Messrs. Aaron & Rich on Saturday evening at 7.30 for the purpose of hearing the report of the Property committee in reference to the new alarm which they had been instructed to secure. Harry Swartzlander represented the committee. He reported that a steam whistle had been placed upon the trolley power house, and as a trial several days ago proved very satisfactory. He further said that there would not be any cost in connection with the new alarm as same had been donated and the work of putting it in position was also contributed. The meeting adjourned to meet in December, the regular annual meeting of the company.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. White have returned from a pleasant trip to Orange, N. J., where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brodie.

New fixtures are being placed in the Yardley exchange of the Bell Telephone Co., and in a short time it will be equiped with all the modern devices for quick and accurate service that the larger offices have.

On Sunday afternoon James Whistler, of Pennington, made an effort to commit suicide by drowning in the canal back of the power house. He was slightly under the influence of liquor. He came over from New Jersey, and was crossing the canal bridge on Bridge street, when he turned and went back and down on the canal bank. Here he took of his coat, shoes and stockings, and was in the act of taking off some of his clothing when a passerby stepped up with the intention of restraining the man. Whistler heard the man coming and quick as a flash he sprang into the water. The water is about ten feet deep at this point. He was rescued by Charles Burns and Frederick Yates, two employees at the power house. He was rolled around and pounded in a very vigorous manner and when they had gotten through with him he was as sober as a judge. At this point Constable Wist appeared and took the fellow in charge. He was put in the town lockup to think over the situation and to let his clothes dry. Later he was released by Thomas McCullough paying $3.20 as fine and costs.

A City Growing at Kinkora.

Bristolians will be astonished when they again visit the region along the river, above Florence, N. J., known as Kinkora. We, as others, knew it as a lonely spot, with a brick yard as its chief and only industry. Now, a modern city, with a prospective population of 15,000 is being built.

William Clake contributed to the New York Herald a comprehensive article of several columns length descriptive of the Roebling model industrial city at Kinkora. The undertaking is making fine headway, and after the expenditure of two million dollars the Roeblings feel justified in spending as much more to round the vast enterprise into working operation. The settlement will cover 237 acres and there will eventually be a working force of 3,000 men, giving a population of not less than 15,000. The company are erecting hundreds of substantial homes to rent at prices varying from $8 to $14 per month and three hotels will furnish board at $2 50 per week to unmarried employees. The scheme does not contemplate any reform hobbies and prohibition will not be enforced. The sale of liquor will be regulated, however, and the sanitation of the city will be carefully guarded. The company will look after all other features of internal government, providing filtered water, street and hotel electric light, garbage disposal, assembly hall, park, school and athletic field. The streets will be one hundred feet wide and will be well shaded. The industries will comprise two rod mills and one steel making plant, with prospect of future extensions.

The Philadelphia Inquirer expresses the correct sentiment. For once let us have a free and untampered Republican State Convention. We are daily regaled with stories of the efforts of reformers and stalwarts trying to "get together" on a candidate for Governor. What are delegates elected for? Let the names of the various candidates be presented to the convention and then the majority of the representatives selected by the voters will determine the candidate. Messrs. Niles, Emery, Penrose, Martin, et al., have as much right to their individual opinions as any one but who has set any one of them up as censor of candidates. Louis A. Watres is the only gubernatorial candidate who is proceeding in a legitimate manner, trying to secure the support of those who are legitimately qualified to name the standard bearer for the Republican party. Others are waiting to receive the smile and the nod of reform or organization "bosses."

Last week The Central News, published at Perkasie and owned and edited by Charles M. Meredith began volume XXVI. Perkasie is the kind of a town that we admire. The people are full of "hustle." The town owns the public utilities. The citizens band together and build houses in blocks of fifty. They do things and are not afraid to invest capital to develop their own resources. The News is a newspaper that commands the respect of every publisher in Bucks and Montgomery counties. The editorial columns is verily a delicatessen treat. Therein is philosophy, wisdom, sarcasm and mirth. The editor is a peculiarity. He's handsome, rugged, honest and true. He's fearless, kind and relentless. He leads the Baptist choir and teaches the young gospel pupils how to dodge the hell-bent express. His first political ambition was thwarted; he's down on Wanger; he wants Grundy for Congress and Harry Neamand for State Senator and he was tickled to death when Yerkes was defeated for Judge. Perkasie, the News and Meredith all are all right. May they each advance in strength, grace and prosperity.

Hon. Joseph R. Grundy, of Bristol,—manufacturer and statesman, has developed over night into a literary person, also. On a certain important occasion Webster replied to Hayne. Grundy's reply to "A Property Owner," who fussed about the new water works down there, was perhaps not so profound as Webster's but as a squelcher must have been equally as effective.

Annual Suffrage Convention.

Executive session will be held at 1.30; convention opens at 2 o'clock. Justice, of Langhorne, and the singing of appropriate songs by Mrs. Elizabeth Addis, Nettie R. Gill, Helen Craven, Anna Slack, Hallie Scott and Rebie Vanartsdalen comprise the programme for the afternoon.

In the evening good music and a lecture by Mrs. Cora Seberry, of Brooklyn, National lecturer and organizer, will be given. Mrs. Seberry, as well as a lecturer, is an elocutionist of rare ability. She will also speak in the Reformed Church on Sunday afternoon, May 20th, at 3.30 o'clock. All sessions are open and free, but a collection will be taken. For those wishing to attend the convention carriages will meet train leaving Newtown at 13.13 at Churchville station.

Bristol's Old Town Clock.

I often am amused
To hear how I'm abused.
But as it does no harm,
I feel but slight alarm.
Some people say I'm old,
That my age cannot be told,
I'm a useless make-believe,
And no notice should receive,
These remarks are made of
Bristol's old town clock.

Old men pass by and say
That I have had my day.
Young men laugh and joke
Call me Bristol's old dead clock,
While the women, bless their hearts
Say I go by fits and starts,
And the little girl and boy
Say that I'm a useless toy.
They have lots of fun with
Bristol's old town clock.

I was never heard complain
By word of mouth or pen;
But my silence now I'll end,
And myself I shall defend,
If I were so inclined
And would boldly speak my mind
Of the things that I have seen
Since the town clock I have been,
You'd have more respect for
Bristol's old town clock.

I have secrets I could tell
That for some would not be well.
As my vigil here I keep
When the town is wrapt in sleep,
Some I know would hide their face
If I told of their disgrace,
But my mercy I will show
And the world shall never know
The misdeeds you've done by
Bristol's old town clock.

Now let us reason out
What brings this fuss about.
If you were in my place
In this shanty of disgrace,
All alive with lice and bugs,
Alone with cops and tramps and thugs,
Would you really keep good time,
In this shack of dirt and grime?
Do you wonder then at
Bristol's old town clock

You may visit Zanzibar,
Or the domains of the Czar,
You may go and see the Turk,
Who have little use for work;
The Chinee and the Jap,
O'er the fingers you may rap,
But all these would blush for shame
A city hall to claim
Like the shack that shelters
Bristol's old town clock.

Now in closing let me say
We can fix it in this way
If a building you'll erect
That's deserving of respect,
And will clean the bugs and things
From my body, wheels and springs
I'll no more go on the bum,
But for many years to come
You can time the sun by
Bristol's old town clock.

ORDINANCE INTRODUCED

To Bond Bristol Borough in the Sum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

COUNCIL MEETING

Mill Owners, Physicians, Board of Health and Business Men Urge Passage of Ordinance.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bristol borough council was held on Monday evening and for the first time since the council has been composed of twenty representatives all of the members were present. The meeting was of unusual interest as matters of deep importance were considered. The ordinance providing for a general election upon the question of bonding the borough in the sum of $100,000 for the purpose of erecting a municipal water plant was presented and passed first reading; communications were received from the mill owners, all of the physicians of the town, the Board of Health and the Business Men's Association petitioning council to pass the water ordinance; the annual tax rate was fixed; the Street committee submitted a report on the sewer proposition and the annual appropriation amounting to over $23,000 were made.

THE ANNUAL APPROPRIATION.

The Finance Committee reported it had given careful consideration to the requests of the various committee for appropriations and as most of the items were fixed charges they were granted. The Street committee which asked for $6,000 was reduced to $5,000 and the salaries of the borough officers were fixed the same as last year except that of borough treasurer which was raised from $25 to $150. The committee recommended that the tax rate be fixed at seventy-five cents on the one hundred dollars which would supply ample revenue. The ordinance was submitted for approval.

REPORT ON SEWER PROPOSITION.

The Committee on Streets and Highways reported that a general cleaning of the street had been in progress and that orders had been placed for crushed stone with which to re-surface some of the streets, which was now being done. Attention was called to the fact that Canal street was being macadamized from Jefferson avenue to Beaver Dam road, by the mill owners, and that as Jefferson avenue from the railroad to canal had been fixed in a like manner by private interests it was recommended that Washington street from the railroad to Canal street be macadamized, thus connecting the stone roads in the mill district. The committee reported that an electric light had been placed on Maple street in response to a petition.

The committee submitted the following report on the sewer question:

The Committee on Streets and Highways has had numerous inquiries from citizens concerning the work intrusted to its care respecting the preparation of plans looking to a house drainage system of sewers and a disposal plant for the borough. Your committee has given much thought and time to this work and its attitude toward this important improvement has not changed in any particular. However, your committee has not deemed it advisable to present this matter to the council at this time for the reason that it believes the question of a municipal water plant to be of first and greatest importance and meets the requirements and wishes of a larger number of taxpayers and citizens, and should be presented for the consideration of the qualified electors fairly and untrammeled by any other question of public improvement. Your committee is led to this conclusion by the reason, that after careful investigation, according to all available information in communities of this size, a sufficient quantity of water is consumed by the citizens of this Borough, which, if sold at the prices prevailing in boroughs and towns of about Bristol's population should make the municipal water plant self-supporting as to its operating expenses, interest on bonds and sinking fund, therefore, a municipal water plant would not present any additional charges on the people they have not heretofore been accustomed to meeting, and at the same time would insure them for all times, a supply of pure water, abundant fire protection, both at the lowest possible cost such service could be rendered to them by a water plant.

The installation of a house drainage system and a disposal plant would necessitate additional charges upon citizens either in the form of rentals, or taxes, which they have not heretofore been called upon to meet, amounting to about 20 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation to provide for the interest and principal of bond issue necessary for the introduction of the sewers, also some additional annual expenditure for maintenance of same. Furthermore, the expense of gathering a sewage of a house, carrying it from a central point, through the yard, under the pavement to the point of connection with the borough sewer would also involve an outlay of more or less cash money at the time property owners would make the necessary connection with the borough sewer in their street.

Then again at some places in the town it would be necessary to use water for flushing purposes in connection with sewer system and with the borough controlling its own water supply it would be in position to meet these requirements from its own plant.

Further, we would state in our judgment, the introduction of sewers in the town would enable a considerable number of properties to establish baths and closets and a more general use of water for other purposes, thereby causing a considerable increase in the consumption of water in the borough for domestic uses. This would be due, of course, to the expenditure made by the borough in establishing a sewer system, and in acquiring control of a water supply for the town the borough would rightly be in position to reap the valuable benefits that would be derived from this large increase in the use of water due to its own expenditure in the direction of sewers. We would state, for the information of council, that in the judgment of your committee based on estimates of cost furnished us by Engineers, there will be available sufficient moneys to enable the Borough to establish both a municipal water plant and a municipal house draining sewer system and disposal plant, should the people so elect, and as a municipal water plant could be maintained and operated with no additional charges which the citizens and tax payers of the borough have not heretofore paid, and would be a necessary adjunct to the economical working of a sewer system, we feel a vote on this most neecessary and valuable public utility should not be coupled with one which would involve new charges upon property.

Respectfully submitted,

POLICE REPORT.

The Police committee reported that during the month of April the officers had made thirty-four arrests, fifteen for violations of the automobile law, one for nuisance, one for desertion, two for assault and battery, two for disorderly conduct, eight for affray, one for larceny and four for drunkenness. Three street lights were reported out during the month and eighty-one "Weary Willies" were given shelter at the station house.

FIRE COMPANY WANTS MORE MONEY.

The Fire committee reported that the chemical engine for No. 3 company had been received and tested and proved to be satisfactory; the hose belonging to the department had been repaired and it was recommended that No. 1 company's annual appropriation be increased $100 as requested. The committee also recommended that $487.39 be appropriated to make first payment on chemical engine.

THE GARBAGE CONTRACT.

The Health, Sanitation and Poor committee reported that it had advertised for proposals for the removal of garbage and that D. Neal was the lowest bidder at $60 per month and the committee recommended that he be given the contract. The committee also reported that James Richardson had been notified to abate a nuisance at his place, corner of Market and Cedar streets.

ORDINANCE COMMITTEES' REPORT.

The Ordinance committee reported that it had held a meeting on May 10, to consider the preparation of an ordinance providing for an election to increase the bonded indebtedness of the borough $100,000 for the purpose of erecting municipal water works the draft of which was unanimously approved and was submitted to council.

ACTION ON COMMITTEES' REPORTS.

Upon motion the Finance committees recommendation that a 75-cent tax rate be fixed was approved. The rules were suspended and the appropriation ordinance was passed finally. The only amendment to the ordinance was that the total appropriation was increased one thousand dollars and the Street committee given $5000 instead of $4000, as had been reduced by the "Watch Dog of the Treasury," Mr. Wright. The ordinance appears in the advertising columns of this issue.

The Street committees' supplemental report regarding the sewers was received, filed and approved.

The Police and Fire Committee's reports took the same course.

The Health, Sanitation and Poor committee's report was received and filed and a contract authorized to be made with D. Neal for the collection of garbage.

THE BONDING ORDINANCE.

Mr. Grundy stated that the bonding ordinance was presented in printed form for the convenience of the members. The ordinance is one signifying the desire of the corporate authorities of the borough to make an increase of the indebtedness of the borough in the sum of $100,000 for the purpose of the construction of water works and a filtration plant, and providing for an election to be held at the usual places and by the officers provided by law for the holding of general elections on Tuesday, June 10th, between the hours of seven a. m. and seven p. m.

The clerk was instructed to notify the members that a special meeting of council will be held next Monday evening for final consideration of the ordinance.

PORT WARDEN ELECTED.

Mr. Wright stated that the term of the Port Warden expired at this time and moved that council proceed to elect a member of the Board for two years and nominated Charles E. Scott the present incumbent. Mr. Grundy stated that he believed the term was three years and moved to amend by making the election for the full term. There being no other nomination the clerk was instructed to cast the ballot for C. E. Scott.

TROLLEYS RAISE DUST.

Mr. Hoeding called the attention of council to the distressing condition to which the residents of Otter street are obliged to submit on account of the terrible dust raised by the trolleys on that thoroughfare. He stated that the people could not sit on their porches on account of the nuisance and that on these warm days windows cannot be left open. He asked that council take action to compel the company to sprinkle the street. Referred to Street committee with power.

MILL OWNERS FOR NEW PLANT.

The following communications was received from the mill owners favoring the erection of a municipal water works and filtering plant:

At a meeting held this day of the owners and operators of the industrial plants of Bristol, our attention was called to the resolution of councils passed the 23rd of April, 1906, which provided for the presentation, at the next regular meeting of council, to be held May 14th, of an ordinance providing for the increase of the bonded indebtedness of the Borough for the purpose of establishing a municipal water plant which will supply filtered water to the citizens of the Borough, and afford abundant fire protection to the property located therein.

Our reason for addressing you upon this most important subject is not that such an improved water supply which would furnish abundant fire protection would be of any service to our mills, for the reason that long since the Mutual Insurance Companies, in which we are substantially all insured, have ceased to consider the protection of the Bristol Water Co. of any value to our plants, obliging us to install a separate system which meets modern requirements in the insurance world. Nor would such improved water supply be of any value to us for use about our plants or in the arts of manufacturing, since we have an abundant supply furnished us for all possible requirements from the Delaware Division of the Lehigh Canal.

Thus our one aim in petitioning your honorable body in this particular is that we believe that a water supply such as is proposed by the eminent engineers you have had in consultation would greatly improve the health of the people of the borough of Bristol, and improved health which would result from the use of pure water would mean much to us in the increased efficiency of labor, and much to the happiness and contentment of our employees.

In the winter season we have noticed that whenever the river is covered with ice, as happens often for many weeks at a time, we will have from ten to fifteen per cent. of our employees upon our sick list and absent from work. Upon inquiry as to the cause of their indisposition we are uniformally told that it is due to intestinal trouble, which the physicians of the town assure us is caused by the polluted condition of the water they are obliged to drink, the covering of ice on the river preventing any possible escape of pollution.

This means an absence of earning power on the part of the labor of the town, as well as a loss of production on the part of the employers. Beside this we are satisfied that an equal number of people are at work at such times in our mills, who, if not obliged by the stern necessities of life to labor, would be warranted by their physical conditions in remaining at home. At such times of the year when the river is thus covered with ice we are convinced that twenty-five per cent of those who are identified with us as employees are more or less effected and their usefulness in life correspondingly impaired by the drinking of water taken from the polluted source by the present water company.

Another reason for approving the proposed action of council in affording the people of the town an opportunity to vote upon this most important question is that we take a natural pride in the development and prosperity of the town.

We can readily understand that the growth and development of Bristol is entirely dependent upon the increase of its industrial establishments, and unless manufacturers who, for some reason or another are desirous of changing the location of their plant, can be assured by this community that they can be offered adequate fire protection they will naturally go where such facilities can be obtained. It must be most humiliating to those who are sincerely interested in the development of Bristol to know that when those who might bring industrial plants to our town inquire as to the advantages Bristol could afford, it is necessary with apologies to inform them that no protection can be looked for from the water company of the town which will pass the Factory Mutual Insurance Companies and the Borough will thus stand a poor show of attracting such desirable increase to its life against the competition of progressive communities, which aiming for industrial development, keep their public utilities in line with modern development.

We would also call your attention, as a reason for favoring this admirable movement which you have started and that is the scarcity of dwellings for the employees of the various mills to occupy. There seems to be a want of local enterprise in the building of houses in the town, and with this situation the only hope of further extensions of dwelling houses could be hoped for from outside capital interesting itself in Bristol. We say without hesitancy that no capitalist or builder could be induced to come to Bristol and erect houses without being assured of modern and adequate fire protection, and an abundant supply of wholesome water to invite a desirable class of tenants to come to Bristol would do much to influence capital in this much needed direction.

It would appear to us that if the Borough of Bristol would be made a modern and up-to-date community which your body apparently wish it to become, it must provide itself with the public utilities which modern civilization deem necessary in order to attract the attention of prospective settlers whether they be employers or employees.

We would remind you that there is the same competition among the municipalities for advancement as between business houses in competing lines, and the community which provides itself with up-to-date utilities of a public character is bound to attract favorable attention to its location and progressive population to its midst.

We are aware that possibly the establishment of a municipal water plant as is proposed by your engineers might entail some increase in tax, but numbering as we do among the largest taxpayers of the borough, we desire to say that should the establishment of the proposed water plant carry with it some increase of taxes we would cheerfully acquiesce in same as we view the increased healthfulness and the increased happiness which would come from the improved conditions of the water supply would abundantly reimburse us and other taxpayers of the borough for such necessary increase, if any.

We therefore respectfully petition your honorable body to pass the ordinance called for by your resolution of April 23rd, 1906.

PHYSICIANS URGE COUNCIL.

The following memorial signed by every practicing physician in the borough was read:

To the Burgess and Council of the Borough of Bristol:.

The Memorial of the undersigned physicians practicing in said borough respectfully represents:—

That your memorialists, in the course of their practice have been many times deeply impressed with the danger to the public health caused by the extremely unsatisfactory character of the drinking water supplied to our people by the Water Company, and that their attention has been frequently called to the unsanitary condition of the surroundings in the immediate vicinity of the water works arising from the great quantity of drainage emptied into the river above, at and below the intake. Your memorialists therefore urge upon the Town Council to adopt promptly the proposition to install a new water works above the town, as set forth in sundry reports from your Committee on Streets and Highways, known as "Plan No. 1," and through you we urge upon our citizens to approve the same when it shall be brought before them for their consideration. Your memorialists have taken this action in the firm belief that such installation will not only add greatly to the betterment of the public health but it will be of the utmost advantage and benefit to our Borough and its citizens in divers ways.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH'S ENDORSEMENT.

The Board of Health petition signed by all of the members except Neil J. McIlvaine, of the fourth district was read by the clerk:

To the Burgess and Council of the Borough of Bristol:

The undersigned, Members of The Board of Health of the said borough having been, for a long time, deeply impressed with the growing importance of a thoroughly improved water supply, from a sanitary point of view, do most earnestly urge upon Council the adoption of "Plan No. 1," for such an improved water system as reported by the Committee on Streets and Highways, to be located upon the River Delaware above the Borough, and through you we would also urge upon our fellow citizens the approval of the needful loans for such purposes. We believe that said adoption by Council and approval by the people would not only be a lasting sanitary benefit to Bristol, but that the proposed improved water supply would result in many great advantages to our town in every way.

We are Very Respectfully,

Dr. Stoever's Tonic Herb Bitters

An old German remedy, and the recognized standard of excellence for over fifty years as a Spring tonic.

During this season, one of the most trying on humanity, nature insists on something to build up and fortify itself against disease which will fasten on a system run down by the rigors and close housing of winter.

Our forefathers were wise. They preferred to take a preventative rather than wait for sickness to get a hold on them.

A full quart of this aromatic tonic costs no more than a doctor's prescription—one dollar a bottle.

It will cure Derangement of the Liver and Stomach and is invaluable for cases of Poor Circulation, Run Down Condition, Cramps and Lost Appetite. Its purity is guaranteed. For sale by

A Greenhorn Abroad.

Rev. W. T. Johnston, pastor of the Bristol Baptist Church, will deliver his popular lecture, "A Greenhorn Abroad," at the Baptist Church on the 29th inst. This lecture is a description of a journey 15,000 miles long, and deals with the passage on ships the people you meet, the lands of Egypt, Palestine, glimpses of Syria and a look among the cities of Europe as well as the journey home, dealing with the customs and manners of the people, displaying a number of souvenirs gathered on the journey and the lecturer in the course of the lecture arrayed in the costume of the Bedouin.

Rev. Groves W. Drew, pastor of the Third Baptist Church, of Philadelphia, says:

"A Greenhorn Abroad," is undoubtedly one of the best lectures on the platform today, being full of interest as a recital of Mr. Johnston's travels through Europe and the Holy Land and he kept the audience in a roar of laughter with the recital of funny incidents of his journey. It is besides a most instructive lecture revealing life as it is lived in the Holy Land which he describes in costume. So much is Mr. Johnson admired by my people as a lecturer that he has been asked to return a third time to give his lecture on "The lands of Moses and of Jesus."

Heard on the Street.

I want to vouch for the Gazette being an "all right" advertising medium. Last week I had a little notice in your paper that I had lost a small skye tarrier. The paper was in the street at noon on Thursday and before three o'clock a boy brought my prized dog back.—H. B. Crowley.

The Gazette is always harping on the topic "Buy at home," "Buy at home." Do you want to know why Bristol people don't buy at home? It is because our store keepers have no enterprise at all. They don't deserve the home trade. I'll tell you what's a fact. I have hunted this town over for a quart pitcher and I couldn't find one. Think of it! A town of eight thousand inhabitants and not a store that keeps pitchers!—A Bristol Housekeeper.

THE WATER QUESTION

Letter From John C. Stuckert, a Director of the Bristol Water Company.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

The Bristol Water Company, at a large expenditure of money, has entered into a contract with The New York Continental Jewel Filtration Company to construct a filtration plant at their works, the contract providing for its completion within sixty days. A movement is on foot, backed by a number of the citizens of this borough, to build a municipal water works for the avowed purpose of securing filtered water for the use of the citizens of the borough, and the filter that it is proposed shall be used in the projected works is the same as that which is about being installed by the Bristol Water Company.

It is estimated that the costs of a municipal water works would amount to about one hundred thousand dollars. Judging from my experience as a director of the Bristol Water Company, and knowing the cost of those works and the cost attendant upon the construction of said company of their new filtration plant, as well as from information gathered from the Norristown Water Works and other works of a similar character, I am convinced that a water plant such as has been discussed by the citizens of this town as a suitable municipal plant, cannot be installed under an expenditure of at the very least one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars.

WOULD LOSE $4,000 A YEAR.

The borough would be obliged to borrow all the money with which to erect these works, make provision for the retirement of the debt within thirty years and pay for the operation of the plant. A conservative estimate of the yearly cost of operation of this plant would be eight thousand dollars. The interest upon the bonded indebtedness, if floated at four per cent, will be five thousand dollars per annum, and it will require the further sum of four thousand one hundred and sixty-six dollars and sixty-six cents per annum, to retire the principal of the bonded indebtedness. Thus, the first year of the operation of this plant by the municipality would entail an expenditure of seventeen thousand one hundred and sixty-six dollars and sixty-six cents which the tax payers of the borough would have to meet. It is true that each succeeding year the cost of the operation of the plant would be lessened by the amount of interest saved upon the yearly payment of principal covered into the sinking fund, as provided by law, which however would only amount to the sum of one hundred and sixty-six dollars and sixty-six cents upon each yearly payment. After allowing the borough the benefit of every possible taker upon the basis of the remuneration that has been discussed by a number of the prominent advocates of municipal ownership of our water works, this plant would be operated at a loss of at least four thousand dollars a year. If municipal ownership of our water supply meant the taking of the water from another source, better in every respect than the one from which the water is now taken, there might be some excuse for this movement, but when it is considered that it is proposed that the borough shall furnish water to its citizens from the same source as that from which they are now supplied, and through the medium of a filtration system identical with the one about being installed by the Bristol Water Company, I utterly fail to see any good reason why this borough should be bonded to almost the entire limit of its borrowing capacity and a debt fastened upon ourselves and our children to accomplish a result precisely the same as that we now enjoy for nothing.

SEWERS ARE NEEDED.

It is urged upon behalf of the advocates of municipal ownership of our water supply, that while the borough would take its water from the Delaware river, the same stream from which the Bristol Water Company takes its supply, yet nevertheless the borough would take its water from a location less contaminated by the sewerage of the town. When the question of a change of the borough charter for the purpose of permitting the borough to enlarge its borrowing capacity was agitated, the reason advanced why this should be done was the necessity of sewering the town. The citizens of the town were a unit on this subject and the charter of the borough was permitted to be changed solely on this account. No one can examine the condition that prevails in the yards of many of the properties upon the streets of the town that are removed some distance from the river and fail to be impressed with the imperative necessity of the immediate establishment of a general borough sewer system. In many of these yards barrels have been sunk in which to run the kitchen drainage and these have overflowed for so long a time that the ground is saturated with this waste matter and the atmosphere is filled with the noxious odors that spread disease throughout our midst, and render these properties unfit places for residences.

In speaking upon the question of sewage at West Chester, on the 9th inst., Samuel G. Dixon, the State Health Commissioner, said: "Every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost, has been up to this time the selfish principle of action in all schemes for the disposal of sewage. It is time that we should take a more righteous view of the question. We begin at the wrong end of the proposition. We introduce copious supplies of water into our towns which we have no provision for getting rid of. What we should do if we were far seeing would be first to build our sewer system with an adequate sewage purification plant, and when that is complete bring in our abundant water. Then we could return it pure and limpid whence we took it without having it on our conscience that we are sending death and desolation to other communities."

HAVE POWER TO COMPEL CONNECTION.

What the Council of Bristol Borough should do, without a moment's delay, is to install a sewer system in this town. They have the power to do it and they have the further power to compel property owners to connect with it. The Act of Assembly of this Commonwealth, approved May 21st, 1901, P. L. 265, provides as follows: "That the Burgess and Town Council of any borough in this Commonwealth shall have power by resolution or ordinance duly accepted, to require any owner of property in the borough abutting on or adjoining any street or alley in which is a public sewer, to make connection with such sewer, in such manner and under such regulation as the borough may order, for the purpose of discharge of such drainage or waste matter as the borough may specify into such sewer. And to that end the owner shall be given three months notice of the resolution or ordinance of the borough requiring such connection. Should the owner fail to connect within that time, then the borough is empowered to make the connection and to collect the cost thereof from the owner as other debts due the borough are collectable."

STOP RIVER DRAINAGE.

A public sewer system having been once installed in the town, all the private sewers that now drain into the river and which have caused so much complaint against the water furnished to our citizens, would have to come out. The owners of these sewers would be compelled to abandon their use and connect, instead, with the public sewer of the borough. Enforcement of such action is expressly authorized by the Act of Assembly of this Commonwealth, approved April 23d, 1905, P. L. 260, the 9th Section of which provides as follows: "Every individual, private corporation or company shall discontinue the discharge of sewage into any of the waters of the State within ten days after having been so ordered by the Commissioner of Health." And the 10th Section of the same act provides "Any individual, private corporation or company that shall discharge sewage or permit the same to flow into the waters of the State contrary to the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of twenty-five dollars for each offence, and a further fine of five dollars per day for each day the offence is maintained, or by imprisonment not exceeding one month, or both at the discretion of the court."

ALL OBJECTIONS REMOVED.

With the installation of the new filtration plant and the removal of the private sewers that drain into the river, near the intake of the Bristol Water Company, all reasonable objection to the water furnished by said company would be removed, and the borough would be saved a bonded indebtedness that would practically paralize its energies. Should however, the borough conclude to install a water supply of its own, let the citizens remember that it will require the bonding of the town to an amount almost equal to its borrowing capacity and the borough will have neither the money nor the power to borrow the money with which to construct public sewers. Is it possible that any citizen of this borough, knowing the facts as they exist, knowing that the Bristol Water Company is constructing a filtration plant such as the borough has been asking for, knowing that the power under the law exists by which every noxious sewer that empties into the Delaware can be compelled to be removed by its owner, and further knowing the great necessity that exists in our community for a general sewer system, can hesitate as to the proper course to pursue? I feel convinced that were this a private matter instead of a public one, every citizen, as a matter of ordinary judgment would say "Let us have the sewers at once." Let us adopt the legal remedies that are at our disposal to prevent the pollution of our water supply and let us give the Bristol Water Company an opportunity to show what sort of service they can render us under these improved conditions."

MATTER OF FIRE PROTECTION.

There has been, I believe, another objection raised as to the adequacy of the supply of water furnished by the Bristol Water Company for the extinguishment of fires. It has been said by some that the supply so furnished is inadequate. This is not true and no one in the town believes it to be true. No fire has ever occurred here yet when there was not a sufficient supply of water furnished by the Bristol Water Company for its extinguishment, and this remember without a penny of compensation. The Philadelphia Suburban Underwriters Association, of Philadelphia, which is a syndicate of the principal stock fire insurance companies, doing business in Philadelphia and vicinity, and whose business it is to rate the facilities of the different towns within its territory, place Bristol in the first class, both for the efficiency of its fire department and the adequacy of its water supply. These people are not amateurs and their utterances are authority on this subject. Even were this not true and the Bristol Water Company, under present conditions, were not able to furnish an adequate supply of water for fire purposes, this could be easily overcome at a comparatively trifling expense by the borough erecting a tank or reservoir or tower such as is spoken of in the engineer's report to council, which could be filled and kept filled by the Bristol Water Company for use in cases of emergency.

After all, the question resolves itself down to this. Are the citizens of Bristol Borough going to burden themselves, for years to come, with a debt almost equal to their borrowing capacity for the purpose of securing a water supply when one, equally as good, can be obtained for nothing. I for one do not believe they are. JOHN C. STUCKERT.

Water Company to Install Filters.

Editor Gazette:—The Bristol Water Company has entered into a contract with the New York Continental Jewell Filter Co., for a filter plant with a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons per day, which when completed will cost $25,000. There will be two coagulating tanks and four sand filters, occupying a space of 40x80 feet, with a concrete storage basin, 40x80, by 9 feet in depth, being similar in all respects to the Norristown Filtering plant except in size, the one at Norristown having a capacity of 4,000,000 gallons.

As this type of filter has been in existence only five years, and is infinitely superior to the alum filters formerly in use at Bordentown and other localities, it is but justice to say that the town has profited by the delay occasioned in endeavoring to obtain filters that would furnish healthful water.

The plant at Norristown had been visited and approved by the directors of the Water Company before the visit to that place by the Borough authorities and the fact that it was deemed applicable to this locality by all who examined it led the directors to immediately award the contract. The work of installation will commence at once.

Glee Society Entertainment.

Editor Gazette:—The Presbyterian Glee Society held a sociable and entertainment at the church on last Thursday evening. The following programme was rendered: Prayer by the pastor; address of welcome by Dr. Burns, piano solo, Mr. Buckman; song, Mrs. Groom; recitation, Miss Julia Slack; solo, Mrs. Snelson; solo, W. G. Buckman; chorus, Glee Society; solo, Mrs. Groom.

Mr. Snelson being called upon for a speech said that if his life depended upon making a speech he would be a "dead one." He then proceeded to deliver a very intresting one on the Tonic Solfa system of teaching music, giving several demonstrations by his class.

The Glee Society was organized for the purpose of teaching the members to read music. It meets every Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Mr. Snelson is the instructor. This society affords a splendid opportunity to acquire a musical education, at very small expense.

Direct From Girard Theatre.

Joseh F. Hortiz, the sweet singer and favorite comedian, will be at the Colonial Theatre, next Tuesday evening, May 22. He comes to Bristol direct from a successful engagement at the Girard Theatre, Philadelphia, where his musical comedy entitled, "Our Friend Fritz," scored a splendid hit. The same company of players will come to Bristol to play a benefit for the Bristol baseball club. Mr. Hortiz requires no introduction to the theatregoers of Bristol as a composer and singer of sweet songs. He is well known and as a central figure in many novel features and pleasing sketches, he has gained the hearts of his audience. He now presents a comedy full of bright musical numbers and with many innovations and specialties of high order. He has surrounded himself with a fine dramatic company of singers, dancers and specialties and his own orchestra of solo musicians. We may be assured of a grand treat. The play deals with the adventures of a German lad, is replete with funny dialogue and natural situations creating roars of laughter. The singing will be of a high order and the production one of the grandest seen here for many seasons.

Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at Streeper's News Agency.

BASEBALL.

Bristol Defeats North Phillies.

The Bristol team, in their second game of the season, defeated the North Philadelphia Browns 8 3. The game abounded with good hitting and pitching on one side and wild throws and brilliant fielding on the other. Seven hits scattered throughout nine innings were all the visitors secured off of Dooling. Schell was hit hard and often and good fielding on the part of Huber, Horn and Kennerly was all that kept Bristol from scoring more than they did. Barton and Bunting's fielding and Dooling and Huber's hitting were features. All of the errors on both sides, with the exception of one, by Horn, were wild throws.

First inning—Essig went out, Kucker to Snyder. C. Mulligan made a nice catch of Englehart's foul. Bunting to Synder retired Huber.

Bunting hit first ball pitched between right field and centre for a single; he then stole second and kept right on to third when Wilson's throw went over McCarren's head to centre field. Mulligan hit to Schell, who threw home, Bunting being run down, Horn and Wilson assisting Huber, who finally made the out. Barton was out, McCarren to Essig.

Second inning—Graham reached first on balls. Wilson hit a slow one down first base line, Snyder fielded the ball, but no one covered the bag, and the runner was safe. McCarren struck out. Graham attempted to steal third and scored on Mulligan's wild throw. Wilson, who had reached second on the error, tried to steal later but was out, Mulligan to Gallagher. Horn received a pass. Kennerly fanned.

Rue hit safely to centre, Snyder a good one to left field. Kucker, to the surprise of his opponents, bunted safely and filled the bases. Thornton would have forced Rue out at home on his slow one to Schell, but the pitcher threw wild to Wild to Wilson, Rue and Snyder scoring. Dooling struck out. Kucker tried to score, but was run down between third and the plate. The umpire declared him out for running out of line, after very near the whole visiting team had handled the ball trying to tag him. Bunting hit hard and far to Graham.

Third inning—Schell's ugly bounder hit Snyder's chest, Dooling recovering the ball in time to touch the runner. Essig reached first on balls and stole second. Englehart fouled to Mulligan. Huber's lucky two bagger to right scored Essig. Huber was thrown out stealing third, Mulligan to Gallagher.

Mulligan planted a good one to centre. W. Gallagher's hit fell safe in left field. Barton flied to Englehart. Rue flied to Kennerly and Mulligan started to steal third on the out, but Kennerly's good throw got him.

Fourth inning—Graham struck out. Gallagher dropped Wilson's line drive and then recovered in time to throw over Snyder's head. McCarren out, Dooling to Snyder Bunting to Snyder and Horn was out.

Snyder waited and received transportation. Kucker sacrificed to Essig. Thornton was retired by Essig without assistance. Dooling's two base hit between centre field and right scored Snyder. Schell to Essig put Bunting aside.

Fifth inning—Barton made a grand catch of Kennerly's drive. Dooling to snyder drydocked Schell. Essig given his base on balls. Kucker juggled Englehart's grounder but nailed him at first.

Mulligan hit through Horn, Gallagher forced Mulligan to second on his swat to Horn, the later threw wild Gallagher going to third and Mulligan scoring. Barton's hit looked good but Huber threw up his gloved hand and made a great catch Gallagher thinking it safe started home and was easily doubled up, Huber to Horn, Rue singled to right, Snyder hit a long one to Graham.

Sixth inning—Barton made a sensational catch of Huber's fly, Graham hit to centre, Barton's quick return to Bunting nailed him trying to stretch it for two bases. Kucker made a good stop and throw of Wilson's grounder, but the runner was safe on a close decision. McCarren was passed Horn's hit to right field scored Wilson, Gallagher threw to Snyder, put out Kennerly.

Kucker flied to Horn. Thornton went out, Schell to Essig. Dooling hit to left field for three bases. Kennerly recovered the ball but threw far over catcher Wilson's head, Dooling scored. Bunting went out, McCarren to Essig.

Seventh inning—Dooling gave Schell four balls. Essig hit to Dooling and Schell was forced out at second to Bunting. Englehart was the second one to be passed on balls this inning. Essig out, Mulligan to Gallagher trying to steal. Huber hit safely to left garden. Graham singled to centre, Barton fielded the ball quickly to Mulligan, who easily caught Englehart trying to score, Mulligan put up a fly for Huber. Essig got Gallagher's grounder. Horn to Essig and Barton went out.

Eighth inning—Wilson out, Bunting to Snyder. Thornton was under McCarren's boost. Horn breezed.

Rue was thrown out, McCarren to Essig Snyder was passed, stole second and reached third on Wilson's wild throw. Kucker's hit to left centre scored Snyder. Thornton was hit by pitched ball. Dooling bunted safely, filling the bases. Kucker and Thornton scored on Bunting's drive over second, but Dooling was caught on Kennerly's relay to Huber to Horn. Mulligan smashed one between centre and left. Gallagher's sky scraper went to Graham.

Ninth inning—Kennerly struck out. Kucker heaved Schell's grounder to Snyder Gallagher threw Essig's grounder to Snyder.

Bloomsdale 5, Olney 4.

Bloomsdale defeated Olney Saturday in a close game by the score of 5 to 4. Praul had good speed and kept the hits well scattered, but seven safeties being made off his delivery, one on a home run by Phillips. The infield played well, accepting a number of chances, some of which were difficult. Phillips pitched for the visitors and the locals hit him safely nine times, Bunting and Black doing the best batting. Bloomsdale put a patched up team in the field, Landreth, Rue, Barton and Mulligan not being in the lineup.

Huntingdon Valley Country Club will play at Bloomsdale on Decoration Day at 2.30 p. m. The last game between these clubs resulted in a hard fought game, Huntingdon Valley winning by the score of 5 to 4.

Score follows:

Olney	0	0	2	0	1	0	1	0		—4
Bloomsdale	2	0	0	1	0	1	0	1		—5

Struck out by Praul 8, by Phillips 4; bases on balls, by Praul 2, by Phillips 5. Umpire—Mr. Louderbough.

Tomorrow "Murphy's Pets," the P. S. & T. team, will play the Johnson trolly dodgers on the American Bridge Company's grounds at Trenton.

Methodists Downed Kickers.

On last Saturday afternoon the base ball team of the M. E. Ushers Union defeated Anthony Callanan's Kickers in a one-sided game by the score of 34-8. The Ushers had everything their own way besides having a good practice in batting and base running. Lynch pitched a good game, allowing but three scattered hits and fanning 16 men. Anthony used four pitchers in his efforts to stop the slaughter, but all to no avail. All of the Ushers played a good game.

Jack Mulligan's finger is nearly well.

Bristol is swatting the ball at a fast clip.

Bloomsdale will not play next Saturday on account of the Red Men's parade.

Next game at home on Decoration Day, Huntington Valley will be the attraction.

Bristol plays the strong Glenside on May 20th. On the 27th they will meet Southwark

Barton had hard luck in batting but made good in the outer garden.

Five of the visitors reached first in the seventh, but good fielding prevented any scoring.

Edward Callahan, as umpire, made several close decisions and his work was entirely satisfactory.

A big crowd of one thousand people witnessed the baseball game on the Tullytown grounds on Sunday, between the Mertz and Kerns teams of Trenton. The former won by the score of 9 to 2. Special cars of the Johnson line ran direct to the ball grounds.

A CLEAN MAN.

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues and fibers in every organ of the body. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood.

Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh. It doesn't make the flabby fat of corpulency, but the firm flesh of health. It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol to inebriate or create craving for injurious stimulants.

Mr John L. Coughenour, of Glen Savage, Somerset Co., Pa., writes: "My appetite was unusually poor, and I was as weak and nervous as though I had been starved for months. My heart kept throbbing continually and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice and you informed me that I had indigestion and a torpid liver. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' from you and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe.
